

Orange Class

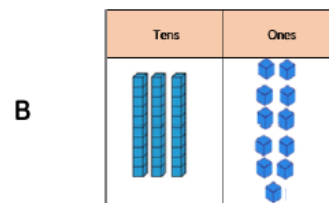

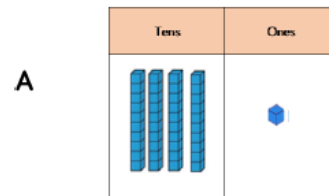

Week beginning 23rd September 2019

Maths We will be learning to use a place value chart, representing numbers as pictures and digits.

What number is represented in the place value chart?

Are these two place value charts of equal value?

English We will be exploring Anna and Crocodile's journey into the ocean, discovering some incredible animals along the way...

Topic Now we understand what it was like to live in 1666, it's time to finally find out how the fire started and will be burning our own London houses to show how quickly the fire spread.

Science We will be trying to save Penguin Sam from melting, using different materials.

We need your junk!

We will be creating sea monsters on Monday. Please bring in any recycling that could be suitable for junk modelling—it must be rinsed first and no toilet rolls please. Thank you!
